
Education Has Two-Fold Aim; Music Has an Important Role

Equipment of Child With Knowledge and Stimulation
Of Mental Facilities Are of Primary Importance—
Progress Being Made

BY ARTHUR MASON

The two-fold aim of education is to equip the child with knowledge and to stimulate his mental faculties. Of these two objectives it is the latter which is the more important, since the child's school years are but the preparation for his life in the world, where the culture of his mental faculties rather than what he knows, will matter most to him.

The New Education

Education is no longer a mere pouring of the best means of education into the child. They are, these days, constantly being improved, and the best methods of imparting knowledge but of the most suitable kind of knowledge to be imparted, and how to impart it, are being sought. The modern means of developing the mental faculties, the changes in the outlook of education, which in the past half-century have almost revolutionized school teaching are due to their changed views as to the relative importance of the child's knowledge as such and the capacity of his instrument of knowledge. They have come to see that not what he knows is so important as his ability to use what he knows. The way of facts but how far he has learned to use them. Their imaginations would be stirred into its emotional appeal. And as a matter of fact, the child's emotions and his spirit in their learning are of greater importance than the child's mind in the school-teaching of music which is constantly improving in system and expanding in range—are equipped with the direct mental stimulus of their necessary attention to facts concerning music.

Music's Facts and Music's Suggestions

It can be safely said that the fact concerning music—the suggestion, the technical detail, the history—remains matter for direct mental training as valuable as that which is provided to most subjects of the curriculum. Knowledge of these facts demands from their young students no less attention, no less concentration, no less reverence for the law of mental activity, in short—that are demanded, as to grammar, or history, or arithmetic. But it is not on this side so much as on the side of its aesthetic value that music has of late years gained the favor of our schoolmen. And very properly so.

The facts concerning music are so much (taught upon by the teachers) can be so truly forced upon children that "musical appreciation" the new well-known heading under cover of which so much unimpassioned musical detail is poured out upon some of the students, is fast falling into disrepute as the title of a lesson. Music concrete facts actually have their value for young students as for old, but it is not music as a fact value as an educational value upon children. Its chief value is in itself. In itself it is an imaginative impulse. If the child's mind is to be trained in music, but merely sang music or learned to music, they would be within the spell of its suggestive power. Their imaginations would be stirred into its emotional appeal. And as a matter of fact, the child's emotions and his spirit in their learning are of greater importance than the child's mind in the school-teaching of music which is

Famous 'Cellist Returns For Musical Season

Fritz Salomon, the cellist who returned to America this month for his augmented activities in the Juillard Foundation and the Concert Institute of Music, is the third member of his family to enter the concert profession. His father was Norman Salomon, a fine English baritone and his mother was a well-known singer.

At the age of four Salomon commenced the study of the piano and acquired considerable skill with that instrument before the cellist's career began. He was born in London and studied at the Royal College of Music, later going to Brussels as a pupil of Edouard Jacobs.

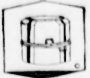

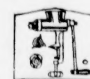

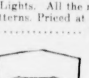

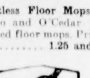

Salomon's recital this year will be his first across the continent for the third time. Since his first recital in New York in 1922, when he was welcomed as one of the great young virtuosi, he has appeared in numerous programs with Paderewski, Hofmann, Busch, Jachowicz, Debussey, Schnabel, Heifetz, Simms, and others. He has worked with these cellists in his own right, and his quality which is most revealing and that is his extraordinary enthusiasm for music.

DOROTHY DIX

Why a Girl Should Listen to Her Heart Instead of To Her Mother's Ambition in Selecting a Husband. Business Man or Housewife, Which Works Harder? Has Brother the Right to Select Sister's Boy Friends?

DEAR MISS DIX:—I am a business girl making a good salary and I love with all my heart and soul a young man who is a business man. I have a chance to marry a very successful man, but I am not sure I should. I am not sure I should. I am not sure I should.

Answer: You are right. A thousand times you are right. Your mother is altogether wrong, and if you listen to her evil counsel you will wreck your life. Love is the only thing in the world that counts in marriage. It is the only thing that makes a marriage last. It is the only thing that makes a marriage last.

No matter how rich may be the man you marry, you have got to adjust yourself to him. You will have to give up a thousand of his habits and desires and inclinations to him. You will have to give up a thousand of his habits and desires and inclinations to him.

If you marry the man of all the things in the world, it is a mistake. It is a mistake to marry a man who is not a business man. It is a mistake to marry a man who is not a business man. It is a mistake to marry a man who is not a business man.

A great many men choose their daughters to marry men who are not business men. They choose men who are not business men. They choose men who are not business men. They choose men who are not business men.

The girl who sells her husband or lets her mother sell her has no right to draw her skirts away from the women of the world. The greatest thing that a woman can do is to be a business woman. The greatest thing that a woman can do is to be a business woman.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX:—I am a business girl making a good salary and I love with all my heart and soul a young man who is a business man. I have a chance to marry a very successful man, but I am not sure I should. I am not sure I should.

Answer: It depends upon the individual case. The poor woman who has half a dozen children and who has all of her cooking and washing and house and baby-tending, who has half a dozen children and who has all of her cooking and washing and house and baby-tending.

Her hours begin before her husband's. Because she has to get up and get into her breakfast, and then she has to get into her breakfast, and then she has to get into her breakfast, and then she has to get into her breakfast.

Among people of moderate income it is a fifty-fifty proposition. The woman who is a business woman is a business woman. The woman who is a business woman is a business woman. The woman who is a business woman is a business woman.

He works out in the world where he meets people continually. He meets people continually. He meets people continually. He meets people continually. He meets people continually.

Answer: Well, of course, no man's any real right. Your parents are the only ones who have the privilege of being your mother. Your parents are the only ones who have the privilege of being your mother. Your parents are the only ones who have the privilege of being your mother.

A brother is a mighty good friend to have and a wise adviser. A brother is a mighty good friend to have and a wise adviser. A brother is a mighty good friend to have and a wise adviser. A brother is a mighty good friend to have and a wise adviser.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX:—I am a business girl making a good salary and I love with all my heart and soul a young man who is a business man. I have a chance to marry a very successful man, but I am not sure I should. I am not sure I should.

CHEVROLET

NEVER has any car in Canada established such a phenomenal record of public acceptance as Chevrolet has attained during the past eight months.

The Most Amazing Quality in Chevrolet History—the most amazing quality ever offered by any car in the low-price field—has won for Chevrolet the unqualified, enthusiastic approval of Canadian buyers from coast to coast.

Chevrolet is far outselling all other cars in its price range combined . . . sheerly and solely on the basis of merit . . . of a standard of quality, performance and value unequalled in all Chevrolet history.

Let your Chevrolet dealer show you the car and demonstrate its performance. Judge Chevrolet by every known standard of car-values and understand the reasons for Chevrolet's amazing success.

SILVERWARE
For Adornment and Use

What is more to be desired in connection with a well laid table than silver which has a quality of beauty and refinement? The Crown Life Silverware is a small size which realizes the importance of having the proper silverware to add to the dignity of the table and make the food more palatable.

We have all the individual pieces in Community Plate, Wm. Rogers and Rogers and Rogers as well as being able to give you a set of silverware on any of the above plans.

The two-famed Community Plate comes in three patterns: Adam, Bird of Paradise or Hampton Court. The Community Plate may be purchased in the Marquis pattern, while for larger work, we recommend the Community Plate in the Marquis pattern. Then there is the new innovation, the Four-famed Community Plate. This is procurable in Paul Rogers pattern in a family size, which would serve the double purpose of holding the silver or making it as a set.

Mr. Rogers, silverware comes in Triumph and Star patterns and a 25-piece set of silverware in the set. In fact, you can only 125.00, or a 25-piece set for 125.00.

Hammer and Edwards have three patterns, in our assortment: Century, Romance and Lancia. A 25-piece set in this makes cost at 125.00.

TEA SETS

At a small additional cost you can have a complete tea set in silver or silver-plated. The set includes a teapot, cups, and saucers. The set is available in the Marquis pattern, while for larger work, we recommend the Community Plate in the Marquis pattern. Then there is the new innovation, the Four-famed Community Plate. This is procurable in Paul Rogers pattern in a family size, which would serve the double purpose of holding the silver or making it as a set.
